

OAISYS® Double Up Promotion

OAISYS is extremely excited to introduce the latest release of Tracer. This newest version of our award-winning call center management software delivers the feature enhancements our customers have been asking for—making Tracer the most robust, reliable and affordable interaction management solution on the market.

Double the Benefits and Special Cost Savings

We're celebrating the launch of Tracer Version 6 by introducing a special limited time offer to our customers. Now through December 31, 2009, we're doubling the number of Tracer user licenses normally provided with every qualifying OAISYS solution purchase. That's an amazing offer that provides customers with twice the number of user licenses normally provided with an OAISYS Recording System, but at no additional cost. Depending on your selected system purchase, you can potentially save thousands off of regular pricing while expanding the number of users that can benefit from Tracer call center management software.

For example, purchase the OAISYS Standard Recording Server, which comes equipped with an unlimited user license for Talkument and one concurrent Tracer user license, and we'll throw in one additional Tracer user license absolutely free, a savings of almost 20 percent off regular pricing. Or, select the OAISYS Advanced PLUS Recording Server and you'll receive an unlimited Talkument user license and six concurrent Tracer user licenses—double the three licenses we regularly provide. Should you decide to purchase additional Tracer user licenses, we'll double those as well on a one-for-one basis.

Existing OAISYS customers can take advantage of this incredible limited time offer as well. If you currently have Tracer software deployed in your organization, but have been thinking about adding additional user licenses to accommodate growing business needs, now is the time to buy. Current Talkument customers seeking to migrate to Tracer's advanced feature set can also take advantage of this promotion to enjoy cost savings.

So, if you've been considering the purchase of a call recording solution to help drive customer retention, revenue protection and operational efficiency in your business, look no further. OAISYS Tracer delivers the impressive array of features you want, and at a price that can't be beat. Contact your Authorized OAISYS Reseller today to learn more!
